Space For Me: Creative Arts

Term-time group for young people (11-21 yrs) with a disability / additional need

Space for Me is a partnership of five organisations offering a menu of term-time sports and leisure activities including our two-hour CREATIVE ARTS sessions inspired by theatre, taking place every Sunday during term time.

Our sessions will be fun, practical and a way of socialising with other people who share your interest in the arts. Come and have a go at our creative activities including craft, music, movement and drama, always led by experienced professionals and supported by a consistent team of workshop assistants from Theatre Royal. No previous experience necessary, just bring yourself!

The sessions are designed to be a playful exploration of creative arts and theatre-making for children and young adults who have a particular need affecting their day-to-day life.

TERM TIME ONLY

£5 per session.
